OUR DIGITAL DAY

Waking up The smartphone is browsed for snippets of information to get a guick insight into notifications and the main events during the night.

Breakast Using the tablet to browse through news, read emails and check social media

Commuting Using the smartphone to browse through the events of the day to come

Work Using the office computer to keep track of nes and events on the side, maybe after having been contacted privately via the smartphone

Commuting Using the smartphone to pass the time and play a garne. Maybe follow up one some last mails and or events

After dinner in parallel to discussions and or television, the tablet is used for further reading and keeping in contact with friends and family

Going to sleep Before going to sleep, the smartphone is used to check if anything intersting is ongoing that is worth staying up for
